

The Tree of Life Entrance Gate welcomes visitors into a place of quiet rest and beauty. Throughout the garden, scriptures affirm God's eternal promises and provide hope and comfort to those who mourn.

The Columbarium, Gardens, and Basalt Columns are located adjacent to the Choir Rehearsal Room at the west end of the Sanctuary building.

Services We Provide:

- Memorial Service or Funeral
- Interment of Ashes
- Memorialization on Basalt Columns

The Presbyterian Church (USA) affirms cremation and interment are "Christian methods of disposition of the body upon death."

Ashes must be placed in a suitable container, not to exceed 4" x 7" x 9". Names and dates will be engraved on the front of the niche at the time of interment.

Basalt Column for Memorialization

Two majestic black granite columns, inscribed with scripture, provide a permanent place to honor your loved one when their ashes have been scattered elsewhere. Names and dates will be engraved on the columns.

Perpetual Care

Fees associated with the Memorial Garden are used to maintain and manage the garden. An Endowment Trust Fund insures perpetual care of the garden and may provide financial help toward the purchase price of a niche in special circumstances.

Memories, Love, Respect, Quiet, Private, Peaceful, Beautiful, Community, Family, Honor and Celebrate

These important elements were uppermost in the minds of the Memorial Garden Committee. Families of faith for centuries have honored and remembered their loved ones on the grounds of their churches. The Memorial Garden designers endeavored to further this tradition by selecting a site that is quiet and private, but can be enjoyed by the community for its beauty. Respect is expressed by the permanence of the materials, the symbolism of the gate, and scripture inscribed throughout the garden. We honor by naming those we love. A glass pergola is a centerpiece for family to gather and celebrate memories of their loved ones. The peaceful experience is enhanced by the sound of cascading water over the stones and through the landscape.
